Wells family history by Mary Wells unpublished, handwritten manuscript, transcribed by Orin Wells, Wells Family Research Assoc., 2000

Written between 1935 and 1948

The following was provided to me by Lorraine Cook White several years ago. This is the first time I have actually tried to study it in any detail I have retained the spelling and grammar as contained in the original handwritten material. Hope I didn't add too many typo errors in the process. Lorraine, I hope you will review it and let me know of any corrections needed.

There is much that is not clear about the time and also the rest, but it is conceded that the grandmother and the two Aunties raised the family of nine children at Rapid City, Ill. We believe their grandmother died there and Aunt Polly also.

Asenath #476 Aunt Sena married very late in life a Mr. Edwards. Children all grown to man and womanhood. We know nothing of the girl we think they called Lucy. We lost trace of her someway. #735?

#734 The one we called Susan married a man by name Owens and they went to Missouri and we lost trace of them there.

"Ira Wells" Parents #475+474

Daniel Wells and Lucy Wells left Vermont about 1817 when Ira was about 3 years old. It seems they lived in Ohio perhaps 3 years. Then journeyed on to Wayne Co., Ill. Shawneetown. The father sickened and died there before the youngest son "Daniel III" was born. The mother also died when he was but an infant nine months old or near that, leaving a group of nine orphan children.

The next we know of them they are in Rapid City, ILL. With their grandmother and Aunts Polly and Asenath Wells = "Maidens".

#472 Laura Wells

Was much married. First to a man named L. Cook (Eliphalet T. Cook). I don't know the correct way to spell his name but we called it Lifelet Cook. (Uncle Lifelet) They had a big family of children and he died early.

Then she married Edwards. He died and she married a man by name of Spade. And it was thought she married again after his death. Not sure. It has gone down in history that Aunt Laura was a beautiful character and that all loved her who knew her. He sons, Ira and Dan Cook, have both <can not read the next sentence>

Wells Family History by Mary Wells

Reflections

Jeffrey Hunt
September 4 2025

This document, Wells Family History, was written by Mary Wells, the youngest daughter of Ira Wells. It was sent to me by my cousin, Cassie Widener Shields. Cassie is the granddaughter of Francis Smith, the eldest sibling in my grandmother Blanche Toner Dear's family—though I'll confirm that.

I had never seen this manuscript before. The title page reads: Wells Family History by Mary Wells — unpublished handwritten manuscript, transcribed by Oren Wells, Wells Family Research Association, 2000. A new path to explore. It's possible the manuscript has already been published or archived online.

The text was written between 1935 and 1948. I initially thought it might have been compiled by Lorna Saylor, but now I believe it may have come from the Douglas County Museum. The original handwritten version could be in the museum archives. Establishing that provenance will be important.

This is one more thread among many—an intriguing one. Researching Oren Wells and the Wells Family Research Association could be worthwhile, and Cassie may have more details to share.

Cassie sent the pages as phone photos, just as I'd requested—quick and simple. Because of the camera angle, the images were slightly distorted, so I cleaned them up for easier reading. Despite the formatting challenges, the content is rich and filled with remarkable insights that expand the family story.

One connection I'm especially interested in is to the Zumwalt family. I have letters between Mary Wells and a cousin Zumwalt but had never been able to confirm the relationship. This manuscript explains it. There's also a Beale family history online that touches on the same link—this document reinforces that thread.

There's a wealth of material here on the extended Wells family that's entirely new to me. It may be worth checking whether the Hawley family history—an extensive book that includes the Wells line—made use of this manuscript. It's possible it didn't, depending on when that book was compiled.

All in all, this is a valuable addition, and I'm deeply grateful to Cassie for sending it. There's more work ahead.

Of the six boys (brothers) 3 of them had blue eyes and 3 of them had black eyes. Nelson, Ira and Merit were the blue eyed ones. Asaph, Eri and Dan black eyes. Aunt Laura had black eyes. We don't know so much about the other two.

Daniel Wells II[d] was married to Lucy Fuller perhaps 1801 or 2. They lived in Athens township in the County of Windham State of Vermont. Nine children were born to them:

- Asaph the Eldest was born 1803
- Erie
- Susan
- Merrit
- Laura
- Ira born in Vermont 1814
- Lucy (not sure of name)
- Nelson born on Ohio River on the way to Illinois or Ohio 1817.
- Daniel born in Ill. Shawneetown.

#763 Daniel Wells the first must have died early in life and left grandmother a widow. From Vermont they all come to Illinois. First to the South part of the state and then to Rock Island Co. where they settled and married.

#764 Rachel married Samuel Beal. There were two sons. Daniel Beal and Samuel Beal

Grandmother Wells was a good Christian woman. A Presbyterian in faith, raised her family and grandchildren by Presbyterian and Methodist doctrines. The M. E. church was strongest in Rock Island.

Mary Lucy Wells. Uncle Asaphs 2[d] daughter born in R. I., Ill. Went to Missouri with parents. Entangled with "Murphy" while there. Went to Green River with parents 1852. Wintered there. Met McDonald and was married to him there 1853. In Spring all came to Ore. And Cal. Mary Lucy and McDonald went to Cal. With Davis? Then they went to San Francisco. They boarded a vessel to enter Coos Bay Oregon. A storm arose. The Captain could not land. The Mate thought he could take Mary Lucy and baby boy in small boat, but the sea was too heavy, boat capsized. Mother and baby boy both lost at the entrance to Coos Bay.

Emaline Wells Davis 1st daughter

Uncle Asaph & family left Missouri about 1852 coming to Oregon. They wintered at Green River on the old Oregon Trail - And in the Spring 1853 made the journey on to Oregon. The Davis's went to California, made homes there at Vaccaville - Uncle and Clara came on to Oregon. Aunt Clara died here in Sept. 1875,

Daniel Beal, son of Rachel Wells and Samuel Beal was married to Betsy. Settled in R. I. Co, Ill. 3 children,

- Dr. Lucius
- ~~Bert~~ Sam
- Eunice

(Note written by someone else: "Dr. Bent Beal was a son of Dr. Lucius Beal, Dan Beal's grandson instead of son"

Eunice married Cooper - 3 or 4 children. Came to Ore. Lived in Fenton co. on the farm once owned by her uncle Samuel. She died there.

Eunice Marian was granddaughter. Dr. Lucius Beal has the distinction of being the 2$^{d}$ child born in Zuma Township 1838.
